

JOURNAL OF LAW & TECHNOLOGY PRESENTS...

PLATFORM POWER

THE RISE OF PRIVATE GOVERNANCE IN TECH

Join the University of Richmond Journal of Law and Technology for their 32nd annual symposium, highlighting the ever-changing intersection of law and technology. This year features four panels discussing content moderation and its effects on free speech, the growing need for digital due process in light of largely unregulated platform moderation, internet platforms' terms of service as private law, and cross-border regulation of internet platforms.

4.0 Virginia CLE credits pending. Registration is free, but required.

REGISTER NOW

Friday, February 13, 2026
8:30 A.M. - 3:00 P.M.
School of Law Moot Courtroom

Or visit
bit.ly/jolt-symposium-2026